

Chris Russell, Campaign Manager Myers For Congress, NJ CD03

July 11, 2008

“I worked with First Tuesday in November during a highly competitive state legislative race in New Jersey in 2007, and more recently as the Campaign Manager for Chris Myers for Congress during the closely-watched 2008 Republican Primary for retiring Congressman Jim Saxton's (NJ-3) open seat this June. In both cases, the FTIN technology put our turnout operation heads and shoulders above the competition, and played an important role in turning what were supposed to be close elections into comfortable wins. In the Myers race, specifically, turnout among our targeted voters was 15 points higher than overall turnout, and Myers won nearly 75% of the vote in his home base of Burlington County.”
